Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 20 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain over parts of England and Wales today.

Today:
Mostly cloudy with further spells of rain, heavy at times. Heaviest rain over northern England, Wales and hills in the southwest. Brighter over western Scotland and Northern Ireland. Windy for much of England and Wales.

Tonight:
Early evening rain, heavy at times, over England and Wales clearing eastwards and perhaps turning to snow for a time over northern England and Wales. Snow southern Scotland. Windy.

Thursday:
Most areas brighter than today, but also a few showers. Northern, eastern and central Scotland cloudy with coastal rain and inland snow. Colder than today and windy.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Sunshine and showers, wintry in the north. Some some rain and snow in the far south and southwest Saturday and Sunday. Cold with a widespread frost overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.